FOREWORD

Town of Colonial Beach

Four years of ebb and flow have swept us back and forth, sometimes into quiet shoals, sometimes into a very rip-tide of discontent. Inevitably, the waters of life have left their mark and a certain amount of polish. We know that in the passage of time, only the beneficent tides will be remembered. As the new buildings in Colonial Beach are the tangible evidences of civic highlights, so, this book--our Goldentide--is the tangible evidence of the highlights of all that has touched our emotions in these tender years. And now--

"You to the left and I to the right,
For the ways of men must sever,
And it well may be for a day and a night
And it well may be forever!"

DEDICATION

The demands of the teaching profession are many and varied. A teacher must be qualified to be a teacher, preacher, doctor, nurse, and confidant because the needs of students are so numerous and demanding.

Upon entering the teaching profession, a man or woman soon learns that one must be qualified to do a great deal more than meet the requirements of his certificate.

Many other careers are less demanding and more rewarding in material things, therefore, the successful teacher is the dedicated teacher, who willingly chooses the intangibles of human betterment rather than material reward.

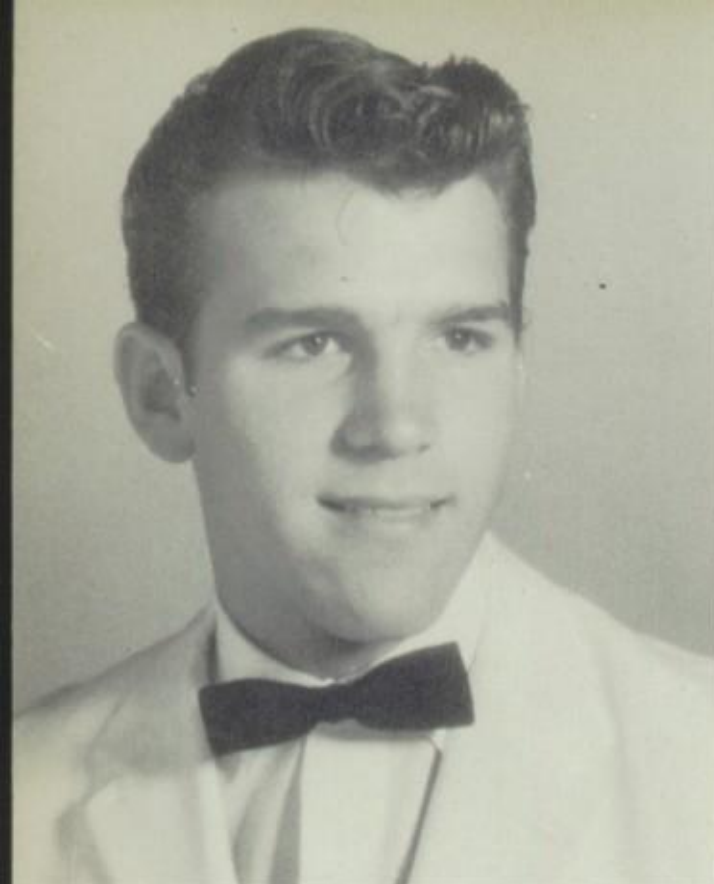

To him who has been our teacher, counselor, and friend, faculty adviser for the "Drifter Beat", and Assistant Principal for four years, we are truly indebted.

For these reasons, we gratefully dedicate the 1962-1963 Goldentide to Mr. Richard Harding Daiger.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Here it is 1973, and I've just received an invitation to Colonial Beach High School graduation which is going to be held in two weeks. Just sitting here on the patio in my multi-million dollar house at the sandy covered beach of Hawaii, I wonder what has become of all the members of my graduating class. Since curiosity is like a fever that never leaves, I decided to leave early and be at Colonial Beach a few days before graduation and inquire about my other classmates.

My first desire was to visit my old school, where I found that Tommy Lamb was now the principal and also teaching classes in government.

When I entered the office I was surprised to find that one of my closest friends in high school, Catherine Mountjoy, was now typing away at the desk as the secretary. When her work was done and she was finally able to talk to me, I learned that a new gymnasium had been built and that Ronnie Davis was the new physical education teacher. Since it was nearly time for lunch Catherine and I decided to eat at the Flamingo where Jean Groves was now head waitress and dietitian. I could hardly believe my eyes as I looked out the window and saw Dickie Adams drive up in his old '57 Chevrolet convertible with the "For Sale" sign still on the side. He told us that he was now manager of the Mayfair Theatre. I was surprised to learn that the former Shirley Benson, now married to Dickie, was legal secretary to Bobby Owens, the most famous lawyer in the state of Virginia.

We decided to continue our talk that night as we ate at Atwell's Crab Shore. Billy was very surprised and happy to see us. He told us that he also had an oyster business, and he distributed more oysters than any other distributor in the state. Being modest as he always had been, Dickie had to inform us that Billy had won a large amount of money for finding the largest oyster ever to be found in the Potomac. Billy told us that Randy Coates was driving one of his oyster trucks and delivering oysters all over the state. Billy then told us of a parade that they were having for the new mayor, John Mayo. We decided then to go find John and get some information about the whereabouts of his closest friend, Bill Gallahan. He told us Bill was assistant doctor to Ben Casey.

We then asked Dickie to take us to the Mayfair Theatre cause we heard about the new release of Cleopatra which was showing that night. After arriving there we discovered Cleopatra was portrayed by Miss Betty Jo Cline, and one of her leading characters was played by Mitchell Staples.

As we were leaving the Mayfair we decided to get a bite to eat before going home. The closest place was the Hut. When we placed our order we discovered Sue Peery and Dicky Pumphrey were married and had taken over the Hut.

From there we called the Colonial Beach Taxi Company for a cab. When it arrived, it was such a coincidence to find Chucky Gutridge driving our cab.

The next morning we decided to arise early so we could find more information on our classmates.

First we went to the Pharmacy where we found Juanita was now owner. Hearing commotion in the rear and wondering what it was, Juanita showed us to the back room. We saw that Ruth Martin was now running a Vic Tanny's and her first customer for the day was Carol Hales.

Juanita told us to be sure and go by the new Pickle Factory which was run by Ray Dickens who had just gone in business for himself after his honeymoon to Paris with his blushing bride, Ellen Fenwick.

Before we left we just couldn't pass up the chance of seeing two of our closest friends, Norma Piotrowski and Peggy Jenkins, who had really made a success of themselves. They were co-owners of the Cabana Club, one of the largest and most popular night clubs of the East Coast.

I guess since I know where all of my classmates are, I can go back to the hotel and rest with ease.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We the Senior class of 1963, of Colonial Beach High School, in the state of Virginia, county of Westmoreland, town of Colonial Beach; being uncertain of our decisions and unprepared we do by make and proclaim this our Last Will and Testament.

- To the school we leave the empty desk which we the seniors could never be on time to fill.
- To the faculty we leave the cooperative Juniors and their ability to get along so well with the teachers.
- To Mr. McCloskey we leave the appreciation for the help which he has rendered to us the past year.
- To the Juniors we leave the "chance" to rein over the school next year.
- To the Sophomores we leave the hope that they may obtain more male students in their class.

NAGS HEAD, NORTH CAROLINA

The story is told that in the early days, an old nag with a lantern dangling from its neck would be led to and fro across the high sand dunes. Ships at sea, mistaking the swaying lantern for a ship riding at anchor in a safe harbor would attempt to come in thereby running themselves aground on the treacherous shoals of the Dare Coast and subsequently became easy prey for the land Pirates of Nags Head.
